

Talend Achieves Elite Status and Technology Ready Validation in the Snowflake Partner Network

June 18, 2020

Talend continues to deliver clean, compliant, and accessible data with Snowflake

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., June 18, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Talend (NASDAQ: TLND), a global leader in data integration and data integrity, today announced it has achieved Elite Status in the Snowflake Partner Network (SPN). This achievement recognizes Talend's track record for delivering enterprise data management technologies from its Talend Data Fabric suite of apps, such as Stitch Data Loader and Talend Cloud for Data Quality and Data Governance, to customers on Snowflake's cloud data platform.

Achieving Elite Status also differentiates Talend as a Snowflake Ready Technology Partner, which demonstrates to our customers that Talend connectors and integrations for Snowflake adhere to best practices around performance, reliability and security.

"Talend's Technology Ready status is a reflection of its investment toward the Snowflake partnership," said Harsha Kapre, Senior Product Manager at Snowflake. "By ensuring its Snowflake integrations adhere to our best practices, we can ensure customers have a great experience."

"With Talend, Snowflake and Tableau Software, we have a modern, agile, high-performance and secure data architecture," said Arnaud Maton, Head of Data at Kiloutou. "This means the business divisions can be autonomous in how they run reports and also promotes a test and learn approach to their use of data."

"Customers can trust that our technologies are tested and optimized to work effectively with Snowflake," said Mike Pickett, Senior Vice President of Business and Corporate Development at Talend. "This announcement demonstrates Talend's ongoing commitment to Snowflake and our support of many key workloads, such as data warehouse, data lake, and data engineering, on the Snowflake Cloud Data Platform."
